

Preparing for the Amateur Radio (Ham Radio) License Exams

The following are resources that can help you prepare for your Amateur Radio License Exam:

Gordon West and the ARRL have excellent study guides available at Amazon.com.

Be sure that you get a current manual. Technician questions are valid 2014-2018, General questions 2015-2019, Extra questions 2016-2020. New question pools usually become active every four years on July 1.

Ham Exam Flash Cards & Practice Exams <http://hamstudy.org>

QRZ Amateur Radio Practice Exams <http://www.qrz.com/hamtest>

Two sites with flash cards and practice tests on ALL the possible test questions. They track your progress and repeat questions that you missed before.

iOS (iPhone/iPad) and Android Apps

<http://swling.com/blog/2014/01/the-best-amateur-radio-and-shortwave-apps-for-ios-and-android-smart-phones/>

This has a review of some ham exam study apps. It also lists some other cool ham radio apps.

AD7FO's Study Guides

<http://vhfclub.org/education.html>

Click on appropriate link for Technician training, General training, or Extra training.

Concise, free study guides for the Technician, General and Extra tests.

KB6NU's No-Nonsense No-Code Study Guides

<http://www.kb6nu.com/study-guides>

Concise and clear study guides for the Technician, General and Extra tests.

Ham Test Online

<http://www.hamradiolicenseexam.com>

Not free, but some hams have raved about how this helped them to understand the material and pass their ham license exams.